

I Don't Want it....Blah !!

Cast: Two People Puppets

Puppet #1: I don't like it.....I don't want it.....I ain't gonna' eat it !

Puppet #2: Wow---what's your problem?

Puppet #1: Oh, we gotta' go to my aunt's house for Thanksgiving.

Puppet #2: Oh, that sounds like fun.

Puppet #1: No....you see she makes this---- makes this awful stuff she calls mustard greens and sauerkraut SURPRISE.

Puppet #2: Mustard greens and sauerkraut SURPRISE ??????

Puppet #1: Yes, some secret special family recipe she says....more like secret special family poison.

Puppet #2: Sounds bad.

Puppet #1: You have no idea how bad.

Puppet #2: Well, tell me how bad is it?

Puppet #1: It's so bad that the dog won't touch the leftovers.

Puppet #2: Sounds bad.

Puppet #1: It's so bad that my uncle tried to bury it one year in the backyard before we all got to the house for dinner.

Puppet #2: Tried? What happened?

Puppet #1: It's so bad that the dog dug the hole for him.

And mom says we are supposed to be thankful for what we have and she tells us every time about all the poor starving kids in the world that don't have a Thanksgiving meal.

Puppet #2: Well, there are starving kids in the world.

Puppet #1: Really, they can have my serving of the mustard greens and sauerkraut surprise.

Puppet #2: Sounds like you are not very thankful.

Puppet #1: Oh great.....you sound like you been talking to my momma.

Puppet #2 No, haven't been talking to your momma....but I do have much to be thankful for.

Puppet #1: Like what?

Puppet #2: All my stuff.....like my house, my clothes, my cat
[Short pause]
And my parents and my grandparents and my brother and my sister and all.
[Short pause]
AND BEST OF ALL.....I am thankful for my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.
