

TRAIL TIP:

Don't Bite the Hand that Feeds Ya !

Do you remember the first time you fed a horse a carrot or apple from your hand? Did someone show you how to hold your hand so that you wouldn't get bitten by the horse accidentally? If they didn't then you may have learned the hard way how to hand feed a horse!

Whenever you hear someone say: Don't bite the Hand that Feeds Ya! What does that make you think of? Do you think you are being told to not bite your mom's hand when she puts food on the table? Now how silly would that be? After all, she has your best interest in mind even when she puts vegetables on the plate instead of French fries!

Common sense tells you that it would be both disrespectful and foolish to complain too much about what's on the plate, right?

It goes without saying that most of us have a mom that makes sure we don't leave the table hungry if at all possible. If you have a parent that cares for your well-being then you owe them respect. Someone had to earn the money to put the food on the table, the clothes on your back, & the shoes on your feet.

However, it seems that we are often too concerned about our physical condition, that is, what we are having for supper or what clothes we are going to wear than about our "spiritual" condition. Jesus was right up front about that problem.

Here's what He said:

Matthew 6: 31-33 "Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? Or, What shall we drink? Or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? For all these things do the Gentiles seek: for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Appears that Jesus is making a BIG statement in regards to what really counts here.

What's your first thought in the morning? What you are going to wear; what you are going to eat? Or is your first thoughts and priorities your walk and your relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ?

You can't put Jesus first until He is your Savior. [Present Salvation here]
